

CLEAN WATER

Trees that grow close to streams hold the streambanks in place and keep the soil from washing into the water.

Trees also help shade and protect streams and provide homes for wildlife.

Courtesy of Weyerhaeuser Company