Timber Harvest Plan

Timber Sale: 11619

Harvest Acreage: 195

Type of Harvesting Activity:

- Thinning
- Timber Stand Improvement
- Clearcut
- Other:

Harvest Description:

General Overview:

This is a 195 acre per ton, per product first thinning sale. The stands are part of loblolly or slash pine plantations roughly 18-23 years in age. These stands will be 5th rowed and thinned in between to leave a residual 60-70ft². All stands will be daylighted 30 feet from road edge and 15 feet from fire break edge.

The goal of harvesting this area is to leave the best trees in the stand. It is an operator's select thinning from below. Meaning...forked, crooked, diseased, cankered trees should be removed first. Pulpwood and chip and saw should be the next products removed, and so on until the BA goal is met.

In regard to the small stand to the NW, there is a small section adjacent to the powerlines that separates part of the stand by a road. A small section, less than about 0.5 acres will be clearcut adjacent to the powerlines. DO NOT clearcut this section until meeting with DNR forester, wood buyer, crew foreman, and feller-buncher operator can be on site and mark out the area with flagging.

Harvesting boundaries are formed mainly by WMA roads, natural streams and wetlands, old firebreaks, and gas/powerline right of ways. Boundaries for the sale area are marked with a diagonal double stripe blue paint. Marked boundary trees are not to be cut. Harvesting equipment should stay within these boundaries. Trees are not to be felled over the harvest boundary lines or into the surrounding SMZ's and roads. Remove all logging slash that does get into the fire breaks or trails.

Because this is a thinning operation, the residual standing trees should not be skinned up or damaged. If residual trees are damaged, it is expected that the damaged portion will be painted over with black or brown paint.

An on-site, preharvest meeting will be required between the DNR forester, the timber buyer, and the logger prior to any harvest activities. Notification of logging activities and moving on or off site is required at least 24 hours ahead of time. If any questions or problems arise throughout the harvesting process, the main point of contact will be with the DNR forester to help answer questions or absolve any issues/ concerns.

Species of Concern:

There are species of concern within several stands in the harvesting area. The main species of concern in the selected stand are Gopher Tortoises. Gopher Tortoise burrows will be marked prior to any harvesting activities by DNR staff. Burrows will be marked with pink paint and flagging adjacent to the burrow. Burrows should be given a 10-foot buffer of all heavy equipment and skidding/cutting.

In the preharvest meeting, examples of burrows and the appropriate buffer will be shown.

If operators come across any unmarked burrows, a buffer should be left and the DNR forester alerted to its location.

Streams and Streamside Management Zones:

There are perennial streams adjacent to the project areas and ephemeral streams marked out within the stands themselves. Bank trees are not to be harvested on ditches. There are low areas within the project area that should be avoided when wet to keep from rutting.

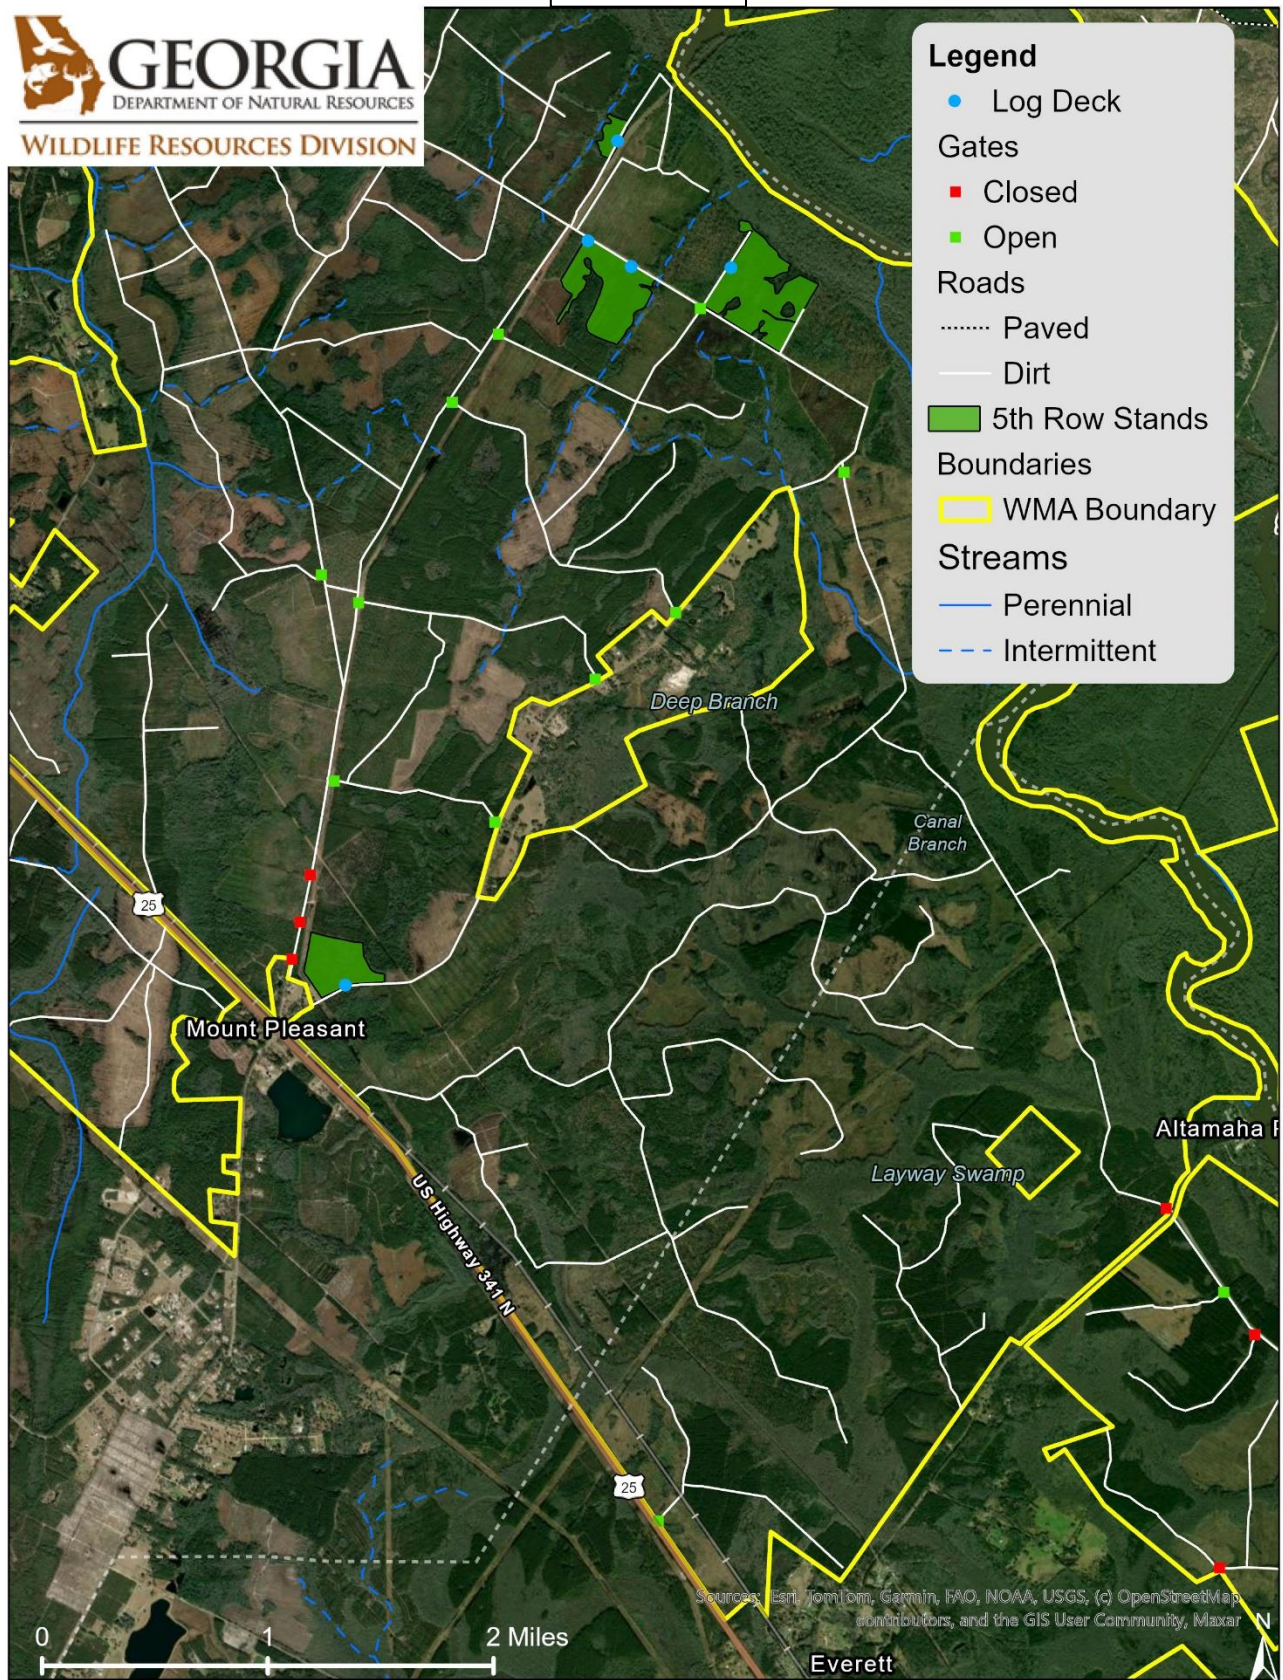

Log Decks and Logging Slash:

Only proposed logging decks as indicated on the activity maps are to be used. Loggers are encouraged to use the minimum number of decks possible. Logging slash is to be distributed back into the stand as much as possible. Any residual slash should be piled, dirt free at least 50 feet away from residual trees. Slash piles should be at least 50-75 feet away from road edges. Decks should be placed far enough off roads or firebreaks to avoid impacting them. Trucks are not to be loaded or trimmed in roads or firebreaks.

Roads

Access to the timber harvest is gained from Sansavilla Road, Violet Drive, River Road, Howard Road, and Williamsburg Landing, and via other WMA roads. All WMA roads must be maintained and returned to original condition or better. All roads used for harvest activities must be and remain in BMP compliance throughout the harvest and upon final inspection of the harvest area.
