The Southwest Georgia PBA, Georgia Forestry Commission, and the Georgia Department of Natural Resources present an opportunity for landowners, students, veterans, conservation advocates, and first responders to gain their Georgia Burner Certification. Over a two-day course, Georgia Forestry Commission instructors will educate on subjects such as fire behavior, fire weather, air quality, smoke management and fire tactics. Course includes self-study materials (obtained once RSVP'd), a two-day training session, and a written state exam.
